WINLEY RETAINS POSITION

Representative Elected Chairman by Unanimous Vote at Republican Caucus—Democrats in House Narrowly Escape Falling Into Trap Set by Leader Mann to Force Vote on Slayden's Anti-Third Term Resolution—Sims Gets Excited.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The Republicans of the senate and house in caucus enjoyed their love feast of the caucus. It was not on the cards that the caucus should do more than ratify the selections of the various state delegations of their representative in the congressional campaign committee, but the insurgents, at the suggestion of Representative Woods of Iowa, sprang a real surprise on the regulars and moved the re-election by acclamation of Representative William B. McKinley of Illinois as committee chairman. The motion went through in a jiffy.

With the exception of Delaware and Tennessee, the congressional committee was made up. Congressmen E. L. Taylor of the Columbus district was named to succeed Nicholas Longworth of Cincinnati as Ohio's member of the committee.

RESOLUTION SIDETRACKED

Representatives Not Ready to Vote on Third-Term Proposition.

Washington, Feb. 6.—In connection with the Slayden anti-third term resolution introduced last week, the Democrats narrowly escaped a Republican ambush. The minority members at the instigation of Leader Mann had it all framed up to permit the resolution to come before the house and then vote present on its passage letting the Democrats put it through on their own responsibility and thus demonstrate to the country their fear of Colonel Roosevelt as a presidential contender.

But at the very last moment the Democrats learned of this neat little plan and scurried to cover, most of them voting against bringing the resolution up at all. All but four Republicans voted the same way and were now sorry they did, for they believed they missed a fine opportunity of putting the democracy in a hole. Representatives McCall of Massachusetts, Higgins of Connecticut, Bingaman of Pennsylvania and Uncle Joe Cannon are the four Republicans who framed the resolution acted on and who would have voted to pass it. Mr. Cannon looked particularly disappointed after the Slayden resolution had been shoved aside. He never has been an admirer of Mr. Roosevelt and remarked to his friends earlier in the day that he looked forward with enthusiasm to the prospect of sending the ex-president a jolt.

Taken by Surprise.
Hardly a dozen members of the house knew until a few minutes before Mr. Slayden sprang his resolution that he had any idea of calling it up. When he did present it there were some mighty quick thinking and Republican, Democratic and insurgent conferences were immediately in progress on the floor and in the cloakrooms. No two members seemed to have the same idea as to the effect of any given action by the house on the resolution, but it was soon learned that Representative McCall had started all the trouble. He had an anti-third term speech in his pocket and he had arranged all by himself for Mr. Slayden to call up the resolution and for Speaker Clark to recognize him for the purpose of delivering it. Both performed according to schedule and threw the house into disorder.

LICENSE HEARINGS BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Wayne B. Wheeler Refuses To Be Smoked Out.

Columbus, O., Feb. 6.—Real consideration of the various license proposals before the constitutional convention began this morning. The last public hearing—to the joy of members of the liquor traffic committee—was held to crowded galleries in the senate chamber. The committee then decided to get down to work.

Only one speaker appeared for the license advocates, Judge George Beis of Sandusky, and he confessed himself unable to "smoke out" Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon league. "He refused to be smoked out," said Judge Beis after the hearing. "I tried my best to get him to say what he would advocate in the license clause which is to be submitted, but it was in vain."

Editor Stout of the Uhrichville Chronicle declared there had been more lawlessness in the short time since Tuscarawas county went wet than there had been in three years of dry regime.

Attorney John Clark of Marion said the only reason the wets want license is to sell more liquor. He deprecated the notion of making saloons respectable and declared the state always will have high-class saloons and dives. The former, he said, are the worst, since they are the places where drunkards are graduated.

Mrs. W. B. Leeds Engaged to Lord Falconer.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 6.—It is reported in London that Mrs. William B. Leeds, formerly of Cleveland, will wed Lord Falconer, son of the Earl of Kintore. Reynolds' newspaper announces the nobleman's engagement to "an enormously wealthy widow of an American millionaire who made his pile out of tin." The description is said to apply to Mrs. Leeds. Both are now on a yachting cruise in far eastern waters.

MANAGER MAKES STATEMENT

Houser Declares That Fight at Republican National Convention For Progressive Platform Will Proceed and Tells States Unable to Instruct For Wisconsin Senator to Urge Adoption of His Principles—Fackler Ready to Do Lightning Change Act.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Even if he is unable to obtain any more delegates than he has pledged to him at the present time, Senator Robert LaFollette's name will go before the Republican national convention at Chicago. W. L. Houser, the senator's campaign manager, is authority for this announcement.

The decision of Senator LaFollette to allow his name to remain on the list of presidential candidates notwithstanding the collapse of his boom was reported after it had been practically decided earlier in the day that Senator LaFollette would withdraw. Men closely connected with the LaFollette movement acknowledged that a conference of the senator's friends had been held and that as the result a statement would probably be given out announcing Mr. LaFollette's retirement. Senator Brister of Kansas and several other active LaFollette supporters, however, opposed this plan, and at another meeting they apparently were able to impress their view of the situation upon the men behind the LaFollette movement.

TWO MORE BATTLES FOUGHT

Chinese Rebels Are Reported Victorious in Both.

Peking, Feb. 6.—Reports of two battles between the imperial forces and the revolutionary armies were received here and in both conflicts the republicans were victorious. The first report states that the imperial troops commanded by General Chang Hsun were attacked and driven back by the rebels, who sustained a loss of but 100 killed and wounded. It is added that 1,000 of the imperial soldiers deserted to the enemy.

Another dispatch received here comes from Mukden, and says that the royal forces sent to attack the revolutionaries who were recently landed at the mouth of the Yalu river have met with a sharp repulse, in which they lost 80 killed, while the republicans had but 20 killed.

Strike Scenes at Lawrence, Where 30,000 Workers Went Out

LAWRENCE, Mass., takes its place among the American cities which in the last few years have been the scene of the most serious conflicts between capital and labor. With two regiments of militia and a strong body of metropolitan police to re-enforce the local force the city has been practically under martial law, while frequent disturbances resulted in bloodshed and death. The arrests of strike leaders on the charge of being accessories to murder and of a city official for his alleged "planting" of dynamite to discredit the strikers have been notable features of the dispute. The first of our photographs shows militiamen keeping the crowd of strike sympathizers back with their bayonets; the second the crowd closing about one of the electric cars which were attacked because they carried strike breakers.

THOMAS LOSES IN THE FIGHT

Delegates Refuse to Banish Alleged Phone Lobbyists.

Columbus, O., Feb. 6.—After a running fire of debate the constitutional convention decided not to interfere with the Central Union Telephone company attendants, who have been charged with being lobbyists. Delegate Thomas of Cuyahoga forced the fighting and the struggle ended only after two rollcalls, in which he was voted down by overwhelming majorities.

Three proposals, by Messrs. Knight, Johnson and Worthington, were put into the hopper. Mr. Knight would take away from the governor the power to veto a section of a bill and leave power to prune the appropriation measures. Messrs. Worthington and Williams would substitute three-fifths for two-thirds in passing a measure over a governor's veto.

Ready To Flop Any Time

Fackler Secures Good Seat on Roosevelt Bandwagon.

Columbus, O., Feb. 6.—The Progressive Republican league of Ohio, of which John D. Fackler of Cleveland is chairman, will immediately swing into line for Colonel Roosevelt if LaFollette quits the race. Chairman Fackler said:

"If Senator LaFollette's illness necessitates his withdrawal from the presidential race, it will bring sincere sorrow to thousands of his devoted friends and followers in Ohio, who are willing to support him regardless of the probability of success by reason of his well-known and constant devotion to progressive principles."

"Fortunately, the Republican party has another conspicuous and able leader to whom it can turn, and I believe Colonel Roosevelt should be drafted into the service. I know he is in no way a seeker after further honors, but I do not believe he will refuse the call of the people for further service."

Hamilton League Switches.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 6.—The Republican Progressive league of Hamilton county, organized to promote the presidential candidacy of Senator Robert M. LaFollette, has adopted resolutions lending its support to Roosevelt in the event LaFollette is unable to run in view of the physical incapacity of the senator and his imminent withdrawal as a candidate for the presidency.

Stenographer in Lorimer Probe Reliterates His Charges.

SAYS BURNS' NOTES "FAKED"

Senate Committee Investigating Lorimer's Election Dispenses With Services of Official Reporter Who Was Adjudged in Contempt—Young Man Who Operated Dictagraph During McGowan's Alleged Confession Offers to Give Test.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Milton W. Blumenburg, official reporter for the committee investigating Senator Lorimer's election, took the stand and repeated in all seriousness the charge that the stenographic notes submitted in evidence by Detective Burns' dictagraph operator, J. E. Sheridan, were fabricated. He furnished the committee with the names of 11 official reporters employed at the capitol and asked that they be called as expert witnesses to corroborate his charges.

Mr. Blumenburg appeared before the committee to answer to the charge of contempt made against him because of his conduct in the presence of the committee. The committee held an executive session and then announced that by unanimous vote they had dispensed with the services of Blumenburg as official reporter and had subpoenaed him as a witness.

Sheridan Comes Back.

J. E. Sheridan, the Burns stenographer whose testimony led to the sensational scene in the committee, explained the method by which he had taken his notes. He declared that the notes were absolutely accurate, produced the dictagraph before the committee and explained its workings, and in answer to a question from Chairman Dillingham, signified his willingness to submit to any test that the committee might prescribe to determine the accuracy of his report and of his capacity to hear and record a conversation under the circumstances which had surrounded his report made at Toronto of the alleged conversation between A. C. Bailey, Harry Kerr and Charles McGowan, in which McGowan, a Lorimer witness, is alleged to have made damaging admissions.

Harmon Wins in Colorado.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 6.—Supporters of Governor Harmon of Ohio for the presidential nomination controlled the meeting of the Colorado state central committee, which chose Colorado Springs, April 22, as the time and place for holding the state convention, which will name 12 delegates to the national convention.

Council Meeting Short Solicitor Accuses Clerk

AND CLERK ACCUSES SOLICITOR

Council Transacts Little Business Before Adjourning Until Friday Night--Solicitor Rankin and Clerk Flynn Have War of Words Over Alleged Illegal Acts and Neglect of Duty.

The regular session of Council was very short, Monday night, adjournment being taken early in the meeting in order that some of the members might attend the entertainment at Grace M. E. church.

The township trustees met with Council previous to the hour set for the Council meeting, and jointly they selected a new member for the Board of Cemetery trustees. John Green was chosen to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late W. D. Cole.

Attorney Frank Chaffin, representing the Pennsylvania railroad, was present, and offered a resolution calling for the assessment of 135 feet frontage of property on Sycamore street, instead of 180 feet as it had been set down for the special assessment. The resolution passed.

A resolution authorizing the Mayor, Safety and Service directors to contract for rental of the McLellan building used for the Mayor's office, Council chambers and city prison, the amount not to exceed $25 per month, was submitted and read. Durant voted against placing the resolution on its second and third readings, and immediately moved to adjourn until Friday evening at 7:30. This motion carried.

Following the meeting, which was attended by a few visitors, including several persons interested in the improvement on South Main street, a heated controversy took place between City Solicitor Harry Rankin and Clerk of Council J. J. Flynn.

The altercation occurred over serving notices on the property owners along that part of South Main street which is to be improved, and for a quarter of an hour the conversation was loud and at times very heated.

Solicitor Rankin held that the notices should have been served immediately after the first publication of the ordinance, which was passed on January 15th, while Clerk Flynn claimed the notices had never been placed in his hands, and he had been waiting, etc.

From this topic the altercation drifted upon other acts of both the Solicitor and Clerk, Rankin accusing Flynn of non-performance of his duty and illegal work, saying that he could point out any amount of illegal acts of Clerk Flynn. Flynn accused Rankin of sitting by and not giving advice to keep Council from taking illegal steps unintentionally.

Rankin came back with the assertion that when he had offered advice, Flynn had taken the floor and shut him out, and that it was not his duty to be present at every meeting and try to hammer brains into the heads of "certain city officials".

Upon Flynn's plea that he did not know what to do about the notices, Rankin said: "While I know you are thick-headed and all of that sort of thing, it looks to me like you ought to know a little something after holding the office for the past ten years."

During the altercation Rankin pulled a copy of the resolution from his pocket, in answer to Flynn's request that he be furnished with the notice to be served, and handed it to him. Flynn's appeal to certain property owners present elicited the response that it "looked like he (Flynn) was to blame for some of the delay." If the notice had been served, according to Rankin, the ordinance could have been passed at Monday night's session and no delay experienced toward securing the improvement.

The squabble ended by Flynn making some accusation which was resented by Rankin who exclaimed: "You're a liar." "I've a notion to slap your face," said Flynn, and again Rankin called him a liar. This practically ended the affair, and the party dispersed.

It subsequently developed that the two officials had been engaged in an altercation a time or two Monday, when Rankin is said to have approached Flynn about the delay in serving notices, and that Rankin had contemplated proceedings for ejecting Flynn from office. This was done, according to a statement made by Solicitor Rankin, because of alleged neglect of his duties and certain drawing of money which is alleged by Solicitor Rankin to be illegal.

Say Grand Jury Not Legal One

Mrs. Nancy Hall, charged with the murder of her little daughter, Ruth, was not arraigned in the Lancaster court Saturday as had been planned, but instead her four attorneys filed a challenge to the array of the grand jury that returned the indictment of murder in the first degree.

They name 14 separate grounds on which they base their challenge. They say this grand jury was not legally constituted; not selected according to law; that the names of the jurors were never placed in the jury wheel; that there is no record to this effect; that the jurors' names were never certified to the clerk of court by the jury commissioners; that there is no such record of certification; that the names of the jurors were not drawn from the jury wheel; that there is no record of such drawing; that there is no record that the sheriff was present when such names are alleged to have been drawn from any jury wheel; that there is no record that the names were ever drawn from a jury wheel; that those constituting the alleged jury were not summoned according to law; that the venire issued was not served upon the persons constituting the same; that the members were not served by the sheriff at least ten days before the sitting of court; that the jurors were not served in the manner required by law.

Entertains Large Audience

Despite the zero weather there was an immense audience at Grace church Monday night to hear the "Whitney Brothers' Quartet."

The male quartet is always one of the most popular forms of entertainment, and the high-class of last night's concert combined with the excellence of the voices to evoke constant applause.

The ensemble work of the quartet was wonderfully artistic; their voices blended perfectly and in exquisite harmony, and their clear enunciation was remarkable. The singers had no accompaniment and especially in the minor strains, the way the voices held together was the marvel of musicians. Their pianissimo work was particularly effective.

The program was varied with pleasing bass solos and delightful readings by Edwin Whitney. "Sally Ann's Experience" from Aunt Jane of Kentucky, made special appeal to the audience.

An unusual finale to the concert was a quartet number in the nature of a benediction, "Peace Be With You," beautifully impressive.

The concert proved one of the gems of the course.

BLIND SPEAKER WAGING CAMPAIGN

Claron L. Shafer Engaged by Commission to Lecture.

It is peculiarly fitting that the Ohio Commission for the Blind in waging their campaign for the prevention of blindness should select a blind man as one of their lecturers. Claron L. Shafer, who has been engaged by the commission to give free illustrated lectures throughout the state is totally blind, yet for the very manner in which he has improved his condition no man is entitled to more credit than he.

After spending his early days in striving to gain an education he entered the Ohio School for the Blind at Columbus, and graduated from that institution with honors. He studied the ways of his afflicted friends, and became convinced that by devoting his life to the work of the cause he could do the most good. In the establishment of the Ohio Commission for the Blind he found a place suited to his calling, and was engaged as a lecturer. Already he has traveled over most of the state, and during the next year he will go back over some of the territory where he has been, besides visiting many other cities and villages.

There has been such an urgent call for the return of Mr. Shafer from towns where he has lectured that he has decided to repeat his lecture, and many cities and villages where he has not been will be included in his itinerary during the year. Engagements can be arranged by addressing Chas. F. F. Campbell, Executive Secretary, Commission for the Blind, at Columbus, and no expense is attached to his lectures whatever, except the furnishing of a place in which they can be delivered.

The speaker is constantly accompanied by his wife, who looks after the little details of his work and helps him to get around in the strange cities. E. M. Van Cleave, Superintendent of the State School for the Blind and President of the Commission; Miss Marion Campbell, Field Secretary, and C. F. F. Campbell, Executive Secretary of the Commission, also devote much of their time in this field of work.

Think National Guards Will Be Called to Front

Unusual Activity Manifested and Company M of This City Expected to Be Among First Called to Mexico if Present Indications Prove Correct.

Company M, O. N. G. of this city may see service in Mexico before the present trouble is ended. Indications are, according to information which has leaked from the war department, that fully 100,000 men, including 60,000 National Guards and 40,000 regulars, will probably be called to the front.

Tuesday morning's Commercial Tribune carries a story of the alleged movement, devoting considerable front page space to the matter. While no mobilization will be made at present, this is expected to be done within a short time, and as the 60,000 militiamen represent about one-half of the number of guards in the United States, only the best equipped will probably see service, and Company M of this city, standing in the foremost ranks in efficiency would be among the very first called.

Many O. N. G. officials are confident of being called to the front, and it is believed that the equipment furnished Ohio troops during the past eight months, has been for ultimate service in Mexico.

Council Meeting Short Solicitor Accuses Clerk

AND CLERK ACCUSES SOLICITOR

Council Transacts Little Business Before Adjourning Until Friday Night--Solicitor Rankin and Clerk Flynn Have War of Words Over Alleged Illegal Acts and Neglect of Duty.

The regular session of Council was very short, Monday night, adjournment being taken early in the meeting in order that some of the members might attend the entertainment at Grace M. E. church.

The township trustees met with Council previous to the hour set for the Council meeting, and jointly they selected a new member for the Board of Cemetery trustees. John Green was chosen to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late W. D. Cole.

Attorney Frank Chaffin, representing the Pennsylvania railroad, was present, and offered a resolution calling for the assessment of 135 feet frontage of property on Sycamore street, instead of 180 feet as it had been set down for the special assessment. The resolution passed.

A resolution authorizing the Mayor, Safety and Service directors to contract for rental of the McLellan building used for the Mayor's office, Council chambers and city prison, the amount not to exceed $25 per month, was submitted and read. Durant voted against placing the resolution on its second and third readings, and immediately moved to adjourn until Friday evening at 7:30. This motion carried.

Following the meeting, which was attended by a few visitors, including several persons interested in the improvement on South Main street, a heated controversy took place between City Solicitor Harry Rankin and Clerk of Council J. J. Flynn.

The altercation occurred over serving notices on the property owners along that part of South Main street which is to be improved, and for a quarter of an hour the conversation was loud and at times very heated.

Solicitor Rankin held that the notices should have been served immediately after the first publication of the ordinance, which was passed on January 15th, while Clerk Flynn claimed the notices had never been placed in his hands, and he had been waiting, etc.

From this topic the altercation drifted upon other acts of both the Solicitor and Clerk, Rankin accusing Flynn of non-performance of his duty and illegal work, saying that he could point out any amount of illegal acts of Clerk Flynn. Flynn accused Rankin of sitting by and not giving advice to keep Council from taking illegal steps unintentionally.

Rankin came back with the assertion that when he had offered advice, Flynn had taken the floor and shut him out, and that it was not his duty to be present at every meeting and try to hammer brains into the heads of "certain city officials".

Upon Flynn's plea that he did not know what to do about the notices, Rankin said: "While I know you are thick-headed and all of that sort of thing, it looks to me like you ought to know a little something after holding the office for the past ten years."

During the altercation Rankin pulled a copy of the resolution from his pocket, in answer to Flynn's request that he be furnished with the notice to be served, and handed it to him. Flynn's appeal to certain property owners present elicited the response that it "looked like he (Flynn) was to blame for some of the delay." If the notice had been served, according to Rankin, the ordinance could have been passed at Monday night's session and no delay experienced toward securing the improvement.

The squabble ended by Flynn making some accusation which was resented by Rankin who exclaimed: "You're a liar." "I've a notion to slap your face", said Flynn, and again Rankin called him a liar. This practically ended the affair, and the party dispersed.

It subsequently developed that the two officials had been engaged in an altercation a time or two Monday, when Rankin is said to have approached Flynn about the delay in serving notices, and that Rankin had contemplated proceedings for ejecting Flynn from office. This was done, according to a statement made by Solicitor Rankin, because of alleged neglect of his duties and certain drawing of money which is alleged by Solicitor Rankin to be illegal.

Mrs. Nancy Hall, charged with the murder of her little daughter, Ruth, was not arraigned in the Lancaster court Saturday as had been planned, but instead her four attorneys filed a challenge to the array of the grand jury that returned the indictment of murder in the first degree.

They name 14 separate grounds on which they base their challenge. They say this grand jury was not legally constituted; not selected according to law; that the names of the jurors were never placed in the jury wheel; that there is no record to this effect; that the jurors' names were never certified to the clerk of court by the jury commissioners; that there is no such record of certification; that the names of the jurors were not drawn from the jury wheel; that there is no record of such drawing; that there is no record that the sheriff was present when such names are alleged to have been drawn from any jury wheel; that there is no record that the names were ever drawn from a jury wheel; that those constituting the alleged jury were not summoned according to law; that the venire issued was not served upon the persons constituting the same; that the members were not served by the sheriff at least ten days before the sitting of court; that the jurors were not served in the manner required by law.

Entertains Large Audience

Despite the zero weather there was an immense audience at Grace church Monday night to hear the "Whitney Brothers' Quartet."

The male quartet is always one of the most popular forms of entertainment, and the high-class of last night's concert combined with the excellence of the voices to evoke constant applause.

The ensemble work of the quartet was wonderfully artistic; their voices blended perfectly and in exquisite harmony, and their clear enunciation was remarkable. The singers had no accompaniment and especially in the minor strains, the way the voices held together was the marvel of musicians. Their pianissimo work was particularly effective.

The program was varied with pleasing bass solos and delightful readings by Edwin Whitney. "Sally Ann's Experience" from Aunt Jemima of Kentucky, made special appeal to the audience.

An unusual finale to the concert was a quartet number in the nature of a benediction, "Peace Be With You," beautifully impressive.

The concert proved one of the gems of the course.

BLIND SPEAKER WAGING CAMPAIGN

Claron L. Shafer Engaged by Commission to Lecture.

It is peculiarly fitting that the Ohio Commission for the Blind in waging their campaign for the prevention of blindness should select a blind man as one of their lecturers. Claron L. Shafer, who has been engaged by the commission to give free illustrated lectures throughout the state is totally blind, yet for the very manner in which he has improved his condition no man is entitled to more credit than he.

After spending his early days in striving to gain an education he entered the Ohio School for the Blind at Columbus, and graduated from that institution with honors. He studied the ways of his afflicted friends, and became convinced that by devoting his life to the work of the cause he could do the most good. In the establishment of the Ohio Commission for the Blind he found a place suited to his calling, and was engaged as a lecturer. Already he has traveled over most of the state, and during the next year he will go back over some of the territory where he has been, besides visiting many other cities and villages.

There has been such an urgent call for the return of Mr. Shafer from towns where he has lectured that he has decided to repeat his lecture, and many cities and villages where he has not been will be included in his itinerary during the year. Engagements can be arranged by addressing Chas. F. F. Campbell, Executive Secretary, Commission for the Blind, at Columbus, and no expense is attached to his lectures whatever, except the furnishing of a place in which they can be delivered.

The speaker is constantly accompanied by his wife, who looks after the little details of his work and helps him to get around in the strange cities. E. M. Van Cleave, Superintendent of the State School for the Blind and President of the Commission; Miss Marion Campbell, Field Secretary, and C. F. F. Campbell, Executive Secretary of the Commission, also devote much of their time in this field of work.

Newspaper Club Saves Blind Babies

The International Sunshine Society, the largest philanthropic newspaper club in the world, with headquarters at 96 Fifth avenue, New York city, N. Y., has, within the last few years, established an institution for the care, maintenance and education of the blind baby.

This institution, fully equipped and an exceptionally fine one, is known as the "Arthur Home for Blind Babies" and is located on Pine Grove avenue, Summit, N. J. It is a large building, with nursery, hospital, home and kindergarten department.

There are 25 children there already. The kindergarten teachers are graduates. The Hospital department is headed with one of the best graduate nurses; the Hospital staff is composed of the best surgeons and doctors of the country.

Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden, a newspaper writer and editor, is the president of the Sunshine Society and rightfully maintains that we have no right to assume that a child has no brains because it is blind. The society has proven that if proper care and training is given, the blind baby will grow up into a beautiful, normal, health-loving child.

The society took the so-branded idiots and feeble-minded from the different states, put them in the institution and has given them training with the result that out of 82 children supposed to be beyond all help only two failed to respond to the treatment.

The story of the search and discovery of the blind children and their development is an interesting one. The society desires to receive information in regard to any blind baby of which the reader knows and letters can be sent to Mrs. Alden, 96 Fifth avenue, N. Y., and will receive prompt attention.

A MODERN MOVEMENT

Ohio Awakens to Its Duty in Preventing Blindness of the People.

No movement of recent times has been more interesting or more prophetic of the future good than the movement for the adoption of preventive measures in medicine and society. Among the movements that are becoming nation-wide is the one for the Prevention of Needless Blindness. Every state in the Union has an awful toll of unnecessary blindness, and

The Mother, Hopelessly Blind From Trachoma; the Child, Having Contracted the Disease, Was Found in Time to Have Blindness Prevented.

Ohio annually pays the penalty of neglect to the tune of $25,000 and many babies to whom the light of the sun is forever denied.

But Ohio has awakened to its duty of preventing this needless waste and is making an effort to inform the public in every possible way how this waste may be avoided. The call is to every class of society, and to all who are interested in social betterment to lend their aid to improving conditions of the sightless by co-operating with the Ohio Commission for the Blind.

Rev. S. F. Fuller Lost in Storm

Rev. S. F. Fuller, well known minister who has lectured and preached in this county a number of times, mysteriously disappeared near Bidwell in Gallia county, Sunday, following services at Evergreen, a small place near Bidwell.

Rev. Fuller conducted the services and then started to walk up the Hocking Valley railroad track to Bidwell, three miles distant. He never reached the place and Sunday night and Monday a posse of several hundred persons scoured the country.

A resident of this county who stopped at Dundas, where the B. & O. crosses the Hocking Valley in Vinton county, is positive that he saw Rev. Fuller in the waiting room at about 2:30 Monday afternoon. To date nothing has been learned of his return.

WILL PERMIT HOPPLES OFFICIAL FAIR DATES

Representatives of Mad River and Miami Valley Fair Circuit Meet in Springfield Monday.

A meeting of representatives of a dozen or more Fair Associations which comprise the Mad River and Miami Valley Fair circuit, met in Springfield Monday and in addition to fixing the dates for county fairs, adopted a resolution opposing the barring of hopples in the races over two-lap rings.

The fair dates selected are: Washington C. H., August 13 to 17; Xenia, August 6-9; Urbana, August 13-17; Carthage, August 13-17; Bellefontaine, August 20-24; London, August 20-25; Ohio State, August 25-31; Dayton, Sept. 2-6; Troy, Sept. 16-20; Newport, Sept. 18-21; Hamilton, Oct. 12-15.

No trouble was experienced in selecting the dates, as the dates had virtually been agreed upon before the meeting. Chas. Allen of this city represented the Fayette Fair Association.

After the selection of the dates, President Ganson called attention to members of the circuit to the hopples question. He said that seventy fair associations were represented at the Columbus meeting and they adopted a resolution asking the American Trotting Association and the National Trotting Association to suspend the rules barring them. He advised the stewards to withhold their membership from either the American or National Trotting Association until the question was finally settled.

R. R. Grieves, of Xenia, offered a resolution instructing the secretary to notify the two parent trotting associations that the stewards of the Mad River and Miami Fair circuit, in session in Springfield, urged the repeal of the ruling barring the use of hopples on half-mile tracks. The resolution was thereupon adopted. Newport, Ky., and Washington C. H., were the only two to vote against it.

Senator G. K. Cetone, of Dayton, said that he contemplated attending the meeting of the American Trotting Association, which will be held in Chicago, on February 14. He believed, ed, he said, it would be advisable for membership to be withheld until it was seen what action was taken on the hopples question.

Mr. Chas. Allen of this city is quoted as saying that the stewards of the two trotting associations had "acted like school boys," and that the rule would be a good one if enforced.

Newspaper Club Saves Blind Babies

The International Sunshine Society, the largest philanthropic newspaper club in the world, with headquarters at 96 Fifth avenue, New York city, N. Y., has, within the last few years, established an institution for the care, maintenance and education of the blind baby.

This institution, fully equipped and an exceptionally fine one, is known as the "Anthur Home for Blind Babies" and is located on Pine Grove avenue, Summit, N. J. It is a large building, with nursery, hospital, home and kindergarten department.

There are 25 children there already. The kindergarten teachers are graduates. The Hospital department is headed with one of the best graduate nurses; the Hospital staff is composed of the best surgeons and doctors of the country.

Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden, a newspaper writer and editor, is the president of the Sunshine Society and rightfully maintains that we have no right to assume that a child has no brains because it is blind. The society has proven that if proper care and training is given, the blind baby will grow up into a beautiful, normal, health-loving child.

The society took the so-branded idiots and feeble-minded from the different states, put them in the institution and has given them training with the result that out of 82 children supposed to be beyond all help only two failed to respond to the treatment.

The story of the search and discovery of the blind children and their development is an interesting one.
The society desires to receive information in regard to any blind baby of which the reader knows and letters can be sent to Mrs. Alden, 96 Fifth avenue, N. Y., and will receive prompt attention.

A MODERN MOVEMENT

Ohio Awakens to Its Duty in Preventing Blindness of the People.

No movement of recent times has been more interesting or more prophetic of the future good than the movement for the adoption of preventive measures in medicine and society. Among the movements that are becoming nationwide is the one for the Prevention of Needless Blindness.
Every state in the Union has an awful toll of unnecessary blindness, and

The Mother, Hopelessly Blind From Trachoma; the Child, Having Contracted the Disease, Was Found in Time to Have Blindness Prevented.

Ohio annually pays the penalty of neglect to the tune of $25,000 and many babies to whom the light of the sun is forever denied.

But Ohio has awakened to its duty of preventing this needless waste and is making an effort to inform the public in every possible way how this waste may be avoided. The call is to every class of society, and to all who are interested in social betterment to lend their aid to improving conditions of the sightless by cooperating with the Ohio Commission for the Blind.

Rev. S. F. Fuller Lost in Storm

Rev. S. F. Fuller, well known minister who has lectured and preached in this county a number of times, mysteriously disappeared near Bidwell in Gallia county, Sunday, following services at Evergreen, a small place near Bidwell.

Rev. Fuller conducted the services and then started to walk up the Hocking Valley railroad track to Bidwell, three miles distant. He never reached the place and Sunday night and Monday a posse of several hundred persons scoured the country.

A resident of this county who stopped at Dundas, where the B. & O. crosses the Hocking Valley in Vinton county, is positive that he saw Rev. Fuller in the waiting room at about 2:30 Monday afternoon. To date nothing has been learned of his return.

WILL PERMIT HOPPLES OFFICIAL FAIR DATES

Representatives of Mad River and Miami Valley Fair Circuit
Meet in Springfield Monday.

A meeting of representatives of a dozen or more Fair Associations which comprise the Mad River and Miami Valley Fair circuit, met in Springfield Monday and in addition to fixing the dates for county fairs, adopted a resolution opposing the barring of hopples in the races over two-lap rings.

The fair dates selected are: Washington C. H., August 13 to 17;
Xenia, August 6-9; Urbana, August 13-17; Carthage, August 13-17;
Bellefontaine, August 20-24; London,
August 20-25; Ohio State, August
25-31; Dayton, Sept. 2-6; Troy,
Sept. 16-20; Newport, Sept. 18-21;
Hamilton, Oct. 12-15.

No trouble was experienced in selecting the dates, as the dates had virtually been agreed upon before the meeting. Chas. Allen of this city represented the Fayette Fair Association.

After the selection of the dates, President Ganson called attention to members of the circuit to the hopples question. He said that seventy fair associations were represented at the Columbus meeting and they adopted a resolution asking the American Trotting Association and the National Trotting Association to suspend the rules barring them. He advised the stewards to withhold their membership from either the American or National Trotting Association until the question was finally settled.

R. R. Grieves, of Xenia, offered a resolution instructing the secretary to notify the two parent trotting associations that the stewards of the Mad River and Miami Fair circuit, in session in Springfield, urged the repeal of the ruling barring the use of hopples on half-mile tracks. The resolution was thereupon adopted.
Newport, Ky., and Washington C.
H., were the only two to vote against it.

Senator G. K. Cetone, of Dayton, said that he contemplated attending the meeting of the American Trotting Association, which will be held in Chicago, on February 14. He believed, he said, it would be advisable for membership to be withheld until it was seen what action was taken on the hopples question.

Mr. Chas. Allen of this city is quoted as saying that the stewards of the two trotting associations had acted like school boys, and that the rule would be a good one if enforced.

RICHES AND POVERTY.

Mrs. McLean, of Washington, D. C., gave a $30,000 dinner. She wore $500,000 worth of jewels. On the surface the dinner was to honor an ambassador from a semi-barbaric people. Only the barbarian would feel honored by such a display; the really and truly civilized would not appreciate it. We recall a Pittsburgh man who gave an $80,000 dinner in Paris. His fertile brain is now laid up in Mattewan for repairs. By the side of such exhibitions, poor old Cleopatra, drinking a dissolved pearl is an economic house wife.

We once read the story of a very savage king, who, decorated with human bones, ate every day for his dinner the brains of selected infants. Of course it was a fable.

But often as we see the half starved mother wearily and vainly trying to rescue her helpless children from the skeleton clutch of famine, we wonder. And again, we think it over. May it not be that if we looked away back into the economic and social causes of things we would find that those who spend their money so recklessly, are consuming, not the delicate foods and costly wines, set before them, but the most precious thing God ever made—the brains of children.

No government on earth will hold a man responsible as to how he spends his own money. And it should not. But before a bar of civilized public opinion a man should be held responsible not only for the way he acquires his money, but for the way he spends it as well.

Many of our very rich were not required to exercise any brains in the acquiring of their wealth and they are throwing about the same amount of mentality into the spending of it.

We are facing a crisis in the matter of the distribution of our wealth. That government is best that develops the highest average of mental, physical and moral manhood.

The ordinary man asks: "Why, when we are producing food enough for twice our population, must so many of our people go hungry?" When prosperity reigns so splendidly, why must the man who produces it live in poverty? Ah! We know the answer, all too well. Many are hungry because a few are so tremendously overfed. Ten per cent. of our people are receiving more of the income of the land than all the other ninety per cent., combined.

We must face the facts—unpleasant as they may be. Injustice and privilege have gained a foothold in our land, and are bearing their natural fruits—poverty, ignorance, immorality and discontent.

Would you solve the industrial problem? Remove its cause! Give the laborer a living wage! Let him enjoy his just share of the great wealth which he is producing! Help him up to a life of virtue and respectability! In short grant him his natural and inalienable rights; and his terrible class consciousness will disappear.

But the first step and the last step in accomplishing this ideal will be to call before an enlightened public opinion for condemnation that will mean social and political oblivion of all those who waste their substance and their energy in the gratification of those desires associated only with an exaggerated ego.

In Economic and Social Efficiency Trusts Have Failed

LOUIS D. BRANDEIS

Promoters Enriched. Labor Subjected to Excess Toil

By the "Anti-trust" Lawyer of Boston

MONOPOLISTIC TRUSTS IN THIS COUNTRY HAVE FAILED OF SUCCESS, BOTH IN ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL EFFICIENCY.

Economically the steel trust has FAILED TO KEEP PACE WITH THE DEMANDS OF THE TIMES. It has FAILED to hold America's proportion of the foreign steel markets, as the great growth of Germany's and England's export trade proves. It has FAILED to hold its own proportion of the domestic markets in spite of its additional purchases of competing plants. It has FAILED to maintain its own percentage of earlier years of profit on capital invested.

Socially its record has been even worse. While it has accumulated for or disbursed to stockholders in ten years more than $650,000,000 in excess of a fair return upon capital and has enriched promoters, it has SUBJECTED THE LABORER TO GROSSLY EXCESSIVE TOIL and deprived him of industrial liberty.

THIS AND OTHER BIG CORPORATIONS ARE PRODUCING A SUBJECT PEOPLE, A PEOPLE THAT ARE AS LITTLE FREE IN THE ESSENCE AS A SLAVE.

THE REAL GOOD FELLOW.

Of course you're a good fellow; when you line up at the bar. Everybody has a round, and then another good cigar. They like you for your company, but as you flick the foam— You forget the Real good fellow, who's awaiting you at home.

Of course, you're a good fellow, and your name will head the list. When they're fixing up some flowers for some man you've never missed.

You're a booster for your cronies, and their virtue fill a tone— You don't praise the Real good fellow, who's awaiting you at home.

Of course, you're a good fellow, till your round of joy is spent. And you're heartsick, wan and weary and you haven't got a cent. When you're down and out and troubled, you know which way to roam— And you always find the Real good fellow awaiting you at home.

Progressive Boom is Dead

ates his name will go before the convention, it is acknowledged by his own supporters that his boom has collapsed and that the campaign in his behalf from now on will be only nominal. LaFollette's manager urges states which can not send delegates to the convention for the Wisconsin senator to instruct their delegates for progressive planks in the platform. This indicates that the LaFollette forces from now on will center their efforts upon obtaining a so-called progressive platform.

The Roosevelt supporters in congress were busy conferring over the situation confronting them as the result of the collapse of the LaFollette boom. They realize that something will have to be done by them without delay if the advance that President Taft is steadily making is to be checked. It is expected that steps will be taken within the next week to appoint a manager for the Roosevelt boom, the initiative coming from the colonel's friends, but acquiesced in by him.

TORTURED BY ECZEMA.

Awful Itching and Burning Drives Children Frantic.

Try this Remedy at Our Risk. Eczema often comes from very trifling causes, such as disordered stomach, or the use of alkali soaps. Children's eczema can usually be traced to something of the sort.

Quick relief from the fiery itching that makes one almost frantic is needed but it is still more important to cure the disease.

In our new skin remedy, Saxon Salve, we have a complete and successful treatment. Saxon Salve not only allays the itching in a few moments but penetrates the skin pores so that its healing germ-destroying action reaches the very seat of the disease. Great improvement is seen in a few days.

This is the skin remedy that we sell on a positive guaranty to give back your money if you are not satisfied with the effects you get. Try it. Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

Hagelanz is said to act and talk like a child, amusing himself much in the same manner.

ates his name will go before the convention, it is acknowledged by his own supporters that his boom has collapsed and that the campaign in his behalf from now on will be only nominal. LaFollette's manager urges states which can not send delegates to the convention for the Wisconsin senator to instruct their delegates for progressive planks in the platform. This indicates that the LaFollette forces from now on will center their efforts upon obtaining a so-called progressive platform.

The Roosevelt supporters in congress were busy conferring over the situation confronting them as the result of the collapse of the LaFollette boom. They realize that something will have to be done by them without delay if the advance that President Taft is steadily making is to be checked. It is expected that steps will be taken within the next week to appoint a manager for the Roosevelt boom, the initiative coming from the colonel's friends, but acquiesced in by him.

While the Democratic leaders seemed in doubt as to what they should do, Representative Sims of Tennessee went into action. No one had a chance to speak or the proposition, but while the quorum was gathering he rushed around the floor waving the resolution and demanding to know if the Democratic party seriously intended to give Mr. Roosevelt the grandest boost he ever had.

"Pass this thing," he cried, "and the people of the country will say we are afraid of Roosevelt and fear we can not elect our man if he runs." "Well, ain't that about right?" inquired a voice from the rear of the house.

"Maybe it is," retorted Mr. Sims, sotto voce, "but why tell everybody about it?"

The Tennessee member who got all "het" up over his effort to interview the entire majority membership in 10 minutes, made a lot of converts, and when a vote was taken to determine whether it should be considered, only 47 Democrats marched between the tellers. The four Republicans mentioned went through with them. Ninety-one Democrats and Republicans mixed voted against taking up the resolution. Half of the membership present did not vote at all, and a good many looked dazed and undecided.

Musterole Means Mustard Oil—

Combined with other simples used in home medicine.

It is a clean, pure, white ointment that does all the work of the good old-fashioned mustard plaster—but does it better and without the blister.

MUSTEROLE GIVES ALMOST INSTANT RELIEF FROM ACES, PAINS AND SORENESS, AND NOT A BLISTER REMAINS.

Instead, it has a delicious, comforting, soothing effect.

You simply rub MUSTEROLE on briskly and the pain is gone!

MUSTEROLE is so penetrating that it enters the pores at once, stops the sharp twinges—brings ease and complete relief—and breaks up the congestion.

Mustard has been a family remedy for centuries.

I am prescribing MUSTEROLE. Several people keep it constantly in their homes.

Car Leaps Embankment Many Killed Instantly

Special to Herald.
McKeesport, Pa., Feb. 6.—Five persons were killed outright and a score more or less seriously injured today, when a car on the Buena Vista division of the West Pennsylvania railroad jumped the track and plunged over a steep embankment near here.

The dead are Luke Donnelly, Chas. Smith, William McLean and two unidentified men. Others are expected to die.

Congressional Situation As Viewed in Springfield

MATERIAL IS VERY PLENTIFUL

Springfield Sun Claims Others Will Be in Field and That Miami and Clark Counties May Have Candidates—Post Has Petitions Out.

Regarding the Congressional situation in the Seventh District at present, Tuesday's Springfield Sun says:

"Congressman J. D. Post, of Fayette county, again seeks to represent this district in congress. Democratic central committee in this city were presented with his petition for circulation. The committee in several instances showed activity and many signers were secured.

Congressman Post has many staunch Democratic friends in Clark county, who believe that he is the man who can lead the Democratic hosts in the Seventh to victory, if anybody can. They feel that he has acceptably fulfilled his mission, while representing this district in the lower house, and they propose giving him all the help possible between now and May 21, at which time he seeks the nomination.

Plenty of material for the congressional race, however, is apparently available. Dr. R. M. Hughey, of Washington C. H., a fellow townsman of Congressman Post, is an avowed candidate for the Republican nomination.

Dr. Hughey, who was styled by the Saturday Evening Post as an "unknown country doctor," is very well known in the Seventh. He raced the valorous General J. Warren Keifer almost to a nose in the race for the Republican congressional nomination in this district in 1910. But the "unknown country doctor" will by no means have the running all to himself.

Hon. Renick W. Dunlap, of Pickaway county, aspires higher than the office of state dairy and food commissioner, which office he held formerly. He wants to go to congress from this district and has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination.

It is also apparent that Thomas Kyle, of Miami county, might attempt to get on the ticket. Miami county is clamoring for recognition. The faithful up that way declare that Miami has played second fiddle, or has not played at all, for lot these many years. They will fight, so it is said, in Miami for recognition in congressional matters when the proper time comes, which will be right soon.

Then Springfield and the remainder of Clark county may want something in a congressional line. There is talk that N. H. Fairbanks would not turn down the honor, if the situation looks rosy.

General J. Warren Keifer, too, may be in the race, but the general has not announced his intentions. He has been in Washington recently and it is thought that he may make his intentions known within a short time.

Try Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake, sure to please you, all grocers.

BIRDS AND GRASSHOPPERS

A strong protest is being made in South Australia against the continual slaughter of such birds as the ibis, the egret, cranes and spoonbills to supply the demands of milliners. The slaughter is objectionable not only as destroying some of the most beautiful and interesting creatures of nature, but, according to the Journal of Agriculture, also as rendering South Australia ever more prone to plagues of grasshoppers, and is a prime cause of the decline of its fish resources. As the wading birds disappear the crustaceans that destroy fish spawn increase in multitude.

CHAPEL BUILT BY TRAMPS

New York Monks' Monument to the Industry of Hoboes Who Apply to Them for Assistance.

New York.—There is one monument to the industry of the tramp that can be pointed to with pride by the wandering fraternity as long as stone withstands the elements. It is a handsome and commodious chapel in the hills near Garrison-on-the-Hudson and it was built entirely by hoboes. The building is now in the almost finished state shown in one of the accompanying photographs, taken a few days ago, and it is soon to be dedicated with a service of thanks for the work done by the heretofore despised knights of the road.

They are not called tramps by the monks who have used their services at this mountain retreat. The hoboes have a very dignified name. They are called by the monks "Brother Christophers," after the walking Saint Christopher. The idea of utilizing the services of the wanderers in return for food and breakfast originated with Father Francis, one of the monks of this community. The colony foregathered in the hills at Graymoor, near Garrison, Ky., two years ago. They were looking for a convenient place to establish a chapel which would serve the Friars of the Atonement as an oratory. At the head of the pilgrimage was the Rev. John C. Hawes, an Anglican missionary from the Bahamas who had been received into the Catholic church. The capital of the friars amounted to nil, but they set to work with enthusiasm that poverty could not dampen.

A sand pit was discovered close to a quarry and water and building material was at the disposal of the monks. They established a temporary home by felling trees and building a log hut, sleeping in bunks built tier above tier. Sympathizers in the neighborhood supplied the monks with a few blankets. Those who had no blankets slept as they could without them.

Most of the contributions, however, went to the wayfarers who were guided to this spot by a series of rough crosses placed from the base of the summit of the Mount of the Atonement. At first the tramps were given the hospitality of the place without thought of return, but the happy thought of making them work for their board came to one of the friars and when the next tramp arrived he was told that the time had come for him to break the rule of the hobo fraternity regarding labor. The hobo was fed and lodged and the next day he worked it out on the new chapel.

Hartman Theater

Frank McIntyre in his first stellar venture "Snobs" the screamingly funny farce comedy which scored such a hit at the Hudson theater in New York comes to the Hartman Theater for an engagement of two nights and a matinee, commencing Friday, February 16th. In "Snobs" Mr. McIntyre who is best remembered as the jolly fat drummer in James Forbes' comedy, "The Traveling Salesman" has been metamorphosed into a milk cart driver who all of a sudden is acquainted with the fact that he is a peer of the English Realm with half a dozen landed estates and the right to wear his hat in the presence of the king. The Milkman immediately attires himself in a milkman's idea of ducal raiment and descends upon society, thereby causing some consternation and incidentally three acts of genuine fun. Manager Harris who is guiding the McIntyre stellar destinies has surrounded his latest star with a splendid support which includes Myrtle Tannehill, Eva McDonald, Marie Fitzgerald, Katherine Stewart, Roy Fairchild, John Cumberland, Orlando Daly and Frank Brownlee.

Empire Theater

"THE TOWN MARSHAL"

O. E. Wee offers at the Empire on Tuesday, February 6, "The Town Marshal", by Lem B. Parker. It is a decidedly well constructed comedy drama, on the order of "David Harum," and shows much careful working out in its details and is made both amusing and entertaining by the nature of its situations and the work of the excellent cast Mr. Wee has given the production.

THE BEAUTY SPOT.

A musical comedy attraction which promises to be far above the average in regard to authorship, star, cast and chorus will be seen at the Empire theater Friday, February 9th, when Frank Deshon, last seen here as the star in "Miss Bob White," "The Office Boy" and "Knight for a Day," will appear as the star in "The Beauty Spot," by Reginald DeKoven and Joseph Herbert.

Mr. Deshon, as "General Samovar" a middle aged attache of the Russian legation at Paris, is said to be at his happiest. Among others, he is supported by Stella Thomas, the same beautiful and talented actress that she has proven herself to be in the past; Jack Fischer, one of light opera's finest baritones, and Carl Krusada, Frank Walsh, Goldie Joab and Pauline Robson.

"The Beauty Spot" is said to have a well-drawn and well defined plot based on the story of a picture painted by a Parisian artist, a portrait of an actress, who has since she posed for the portrait become the wife of General Samovar. The plot has to do with the efforts to suppress the picture, which is known as "The Beauty Spot," and, incidental to this theme, there are two unique love stories running through the piece. The plot contains many surprises and, while it is consistent and of sustained interest, its unfolding is never allowed to interfere with the rest of the fun, which is fast and furious. It is promised that this production will be one of the most beautifully staged shows seen here in a long time.

Big Opportunity In Immune Hog Sale

The Swine Breeders' Journal of Indianapolis, calls attention to Mr. K. Stewart's sale of immune hogs on February the 17th in this city.

Mr. Stewart will put up fifty-six immune sows and gilts at his sale. The Breeders' Journal says, "It's a very strong factor in favor of a herd that is immune. Buyers are getting a guarantee in this stock, which should be appreciated. Hogs will be sold at a high price this year and you will get too many bred sows if you know them to be all right. Mr. Stewart says, "Breeders with infected herds need not hesitate to buy from this offering, as we have been sending males into infected herds all season and not had a single complaint."

In addition to the above, very favorable feature of this offering, it is individually strong, and royally bred, showing such sires as Buckeye Col., Colonel's Chief, Model's Orion Chief, Red Bud High Chief, Kelley's King, Kelley's Pilot, Orion Chief."

YOUNG TAFT LIONIZED

President's Son Kept Busy During Holiday Week.

Accepted So Many Invitations to Attend Dances, Teas, Etc., During Holidays That He Didn't Find Time for Anything Else.

Washington.—Master Charlie Taft, the younger son of the president, was home for the holidays, and was quite the busiest young person, socially, in Washington. Charles has always figured as an out-of-door boy, one who loves to sail a boat or take a swim, play a game of baseball or kick a football, and when his father was secretary of war and Charlie was quite a little chap, he even delighted to shovel off the snow in front of the Taft home. In fact, Charles was rather contemptuous of affairs social, but his point of view has changed with this homecoming.

Many stories of Charlie's exploits in the quite young set have already been told, but his banner day, the day he beat all records, was on Thursday of Christmas week. Master Charles started out with a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Macou for her young sons, likewise home from school; he then rushed off to a tea given by Miss Squire, which was followed by a dinner given by Mrs. John C. Hewson at her home in Sixteenth street, after which he and some of the other young guests departed for the Washington club, where a dance was in progress, at which the Secretary of Commerce and Labor and Mrs. Nagel were hosts for their children's friends. Master Charles got home in the hours just preceding the wee sma ones, a bit tired, but very enthusiastic, just as a beginner in anything always is, and now he throws no more stones at society or its devotees.

A story told of Charlie is characteristic of him, and, with one told of

Archie Roosevelt, shows the different natures of the two boys. When a boy at the Force school asked Archie what his father "did" Archie promptly answered "My father's IT." A little girl asked Charlie what his name was, to which question he replied "Taft." The next was "What's your father do?" to which the youngest member of the Taft family replied: "Oh, he has some sort of a government job down here."

Probably the two liveliest persons at the White House dance Friday night of the holiday week was the president and his youngest child, Charles, who was a privileged character and allowed to mingle with the guests, though they were all of a set known as the young set, but not quite as young as Master Charles' own set. The president never loses a chance to dance, because he loves it, and because, some whisper, the exercise helps to keep his weight down.

Christmas week was full of dances, for that is the accepted way of entertaining the young people home from college and school for the Christmas holidays, and every hostess seems to have taken advantage of the dance as a means of giving a good time to everybody, the elder folks as well as the younger.

College Girls Shine Shoes.

South Hadley, Mass.—The enthusiasm of Mount Holyoke college students over the $500,000 fund for an alumnae building has reached the point at which the girls in one hall are shining shoes to swell the receipts.

Ten cents a shine is charged and while there is no stipulation that members of the freshmen class shall not patronize a shoe cleaning stand presided over by sophomores, respect for tradition has thus far prevented such an unpardonable thing.

The shoe shining business is restricted to the college young women.

Hairpins Make Car Go.

Athol, Mass.—On an afternoon run of a local car several women sacrificed their hairpins, at the peril of losing their "rats," that the car might make the run.

The car developed fuse trouble. The motorman found that short pieces of metal were necessary to make fuse connections. Being a resourceful man, he opened the front door and asked for few hairpins.

With smiles several women pulled hairpins from their tresses and, by plugging in one hairpin after another, he managed to keep the current on.

ODD WEATHER DEVICES

NATURE FURNISHES MANY SIMPLE BUT INTERESTING ONES.

Swiss Weather-House, a Common Toy, Quite Trustworthy—Chameleon Barometer a Curiosity—Simple Test for Humidity.

One of the oldest and simplest ways of telling whether the air is dry or moist is to suspend a piece of seaweed out of doors, or even in an apartment where there is no artificial heat. The weed is crisp and dry at the approach of fine weather, while it is flabby and moist when rain is likely.

A common toy, the Swiss weather-house, is really quite trustworthy in its forecasts, says the Strand. The woman, of course, emerges from the little house in fine weather, while the man comes out when wet conditions are to be expected.

In a medium state of the atmosphere both figures stand just inside the house. The movements are due to the twisting of a cord of caoutchouc, a substance which is highly sensitive to changes in the humidity of the air.

Two very singular weather devices are those in which a frog and a leech are employed. In the former case a glass jar-jar is filled to about two-thirds of its capacity with water. A little wooden ladder is constructed, and this is placed inside the jar.

A frog will live quite happily in such a position for a few weeks, and it will be found that in fine weather the creature will climb out up to the top of the ladder. In stormy weather, however, the frog prefers to remain under the water.

Even more reliable as weather prophets are leeches. A single leech is placed in a broad glass bottle with a piece of perforated bladder or leather over the mouth. On the approach of fine or frosty weather the leech remains almost motionless, curled up at the bottom. When rain or wind is coming the creature rises to the surface, while a coming thunderstorm will cause it to be much agitated; at times the leech will even leave the water altogether, so sensitive is the animal to an electrical disturbance.

The chameleon barometer is a curiosity which has puzzled many people, but its construction is really very simple. The animal changes color according to the weather, being pink in damp conditions, purple in a variable state, and bright blue when the air is dry.

A cardboard mount is prepared, and this may be lettered in sections, Fair Storm and Change. The chameleon is sketched out on blotting-paper, and then immersed in a solution of chloride of sodium and gum arabic. Any chemist will make up the mixture.

A more beautiful chemist hygro-scope is formed of a flower made of white blotting paper which has been immersed in the cobalt mixture. The blossoms show many varying shades, from bright pink to sky blue, with the changes in the degree of dampness in the atmosphere.

A somewhat curious storm-glass was introduced by the late Admiral Fitzroy. This is formed of a glass tube, stoppered, but with a small hole through the cork. Into the tube has been poured a mixture of camphor, nitre, sal ammoniac, alcohol and water. The changes in the state of the atmosphere are indicated by the production of feathery growths, these extending upward at the approach of a storm and retreating to the lower part of the tube in quiet weather.

Spiking Obsolete Nowadays.

One reads in the war news that the Italians found that guns in the Tripoli forts "spiked." If that is meant literally they must have been guns of mainly antiquarian interest.

The expression, "spiking guns," is a survival from the day when all that was necessary to put a gun out of action "provided, of course, that you had access to it" was a large nail or spike and a hammer. You simply drove the nail into the touch-hole at the breech. If the nail was long enough to turn round at the end, on the bottom of the bore, so much the better.

It is just as simple, perhaps simpler, to put a modern gun out of action. All you want is a hammer. The breech block of the modern gun is held closed by screw threads, after the breech block is shut on the shell, a turn of two or three inches engages the threads. By knocking a burr on these threads you prevent them engaging. Any attempt to fire the gun without the breech block being perfectly closed would, of course, be of material assistance to the enemy.

In Practice.

Probably one the heartiest laughs which the duke of Cornwall, now governor general of Canada, ever enjoys, says the Tatler, was that occasioned by the remark of an Irish peasant, who one day while the duke was driving in Dublin with the duchess ran alongside the carriage and kept up with it in an astonishing fashion. So persistent was the man in his endeavors to keep pace with the carriage that at length the duchess had the vehicle stopped and asked the man what he wanted. He said that he was anxious to get a good look at their royal highnesses. The duchess was much flattered and asked him how he managed to keep up with them. "Oh," he said, "there, haven't I been chasing you all me life?"
